

Free Press

Mid-Week

NO. 48 ISSN 0855-1685 WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 26 TO TUESDAY MARCH 4, 1997 * PRICE €500 * U.K. 50p US.

SHOW TO HERALD FILM ON HUMAN RIGHTS

● Visitors to Goklen Hotel around 37 Officers Quarters near Parks and Gardens on Friday, February 28, will find themselves lucky for a never-to-be-forgotten free entertainment evening.

The high profile Italy based Ghanaian musician, Mrs. Ranzie Mensah Casu, will be on stage to enliven guests with some of her exotic performance.

Ranzie, a versatile performer, is married to an Italian. She is among a group of film technicians who are in the country to shoot a video film that highlights the slave trade to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights in 1998.

Friday's concert will be part of the film which will explore the possible vision of a different world where all citizens will have the right of existence and to basic Human Rights.

The free concert is being sponsored by the Bahai Community and the African American Association of Ghana. It is expected to attract a cross section of the people from all over the country.

RANZIE ON SHOW TONITE

Meet the high profile Italy-based Ghanaian Singer, Mrs. Ranzie Mensah Casu, who goes on stage at Goklen Hotel today, Friday to entertain Ghanaians in the name of brotherhood of man and peace on earth.

As part of her professional activities, Ranzie performed numerous concerts in West African countries, in 1981-84. These included Ghana, Ivory Coast, Burkina Faso, Togo and Nigeria.

She worked on the translation of Mirian Makoba's autobiography from English to French which was published by Les Nouvelles Editions Africaines in 1988.

Ranzie also held fashion shows for black fashion designers in Paris in 1985. She performed several concerts and fashions in Italy, France and Switzerland in 1994.

Free Press Friday